The market is flooded with cheap (cheap) jewelry in every shape—so called gold and silver, diamonds, etc., and the worst of it is, that so many dealers sell it for fine goods. For anything in the jewelry line, go to the old reliable jeweler, M. D. Kelly, if you want to know what you are getting, and at reasonable prices. Also remember one thing, that when he insures an article it counts for something, being always in the same old stand to make good any promises. Do you remember how many there have been in and out of the jewelry business in Hopkinsville in the last 14 years?

Newspaper Letter From Pee Dee.

Pee Dee, Ky., Dec. 11.—Having not seen anything in your paper for some time, from our little village, we take this opportunity to give you a few items of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bins, of this place, have been very ill for the past week, but are reported much better at present.

Several from this neighborhood attended the Holloway Edwards marriage at Julien, on the 8th instant.

Rumor says there will be a wedding in our midst soon.

Mr. Lewis Weston, of Julien, is a semi-weekly visitor to "a friend" near this place. Can any one help Louis to decide between the "two fair sisters"?

Senator Crenshaw visited your city to day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Meacham, of Gracey, spent last Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Meacham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Nance.

Mrs. M. F. Crenshaw, of Hopkinsville, is visiting friends in this neighborhood this week.

Christmas is drawing near, much to the pleasure of some of the boys and old bachelors. They are looking forward to the returning of the college girls. A certain old bachelor smiles from ear to ear and says he will wear those new clothes Xmas, when Lizzie comes home.

Miss Georgie Moxley, our Pee Dee teacher, will spend the holidays with friends in Gracey.

There will be a concert given at the M. E. Church at this place on the evening of the 23d of Dec., opening promptly at 7 o'clock p. m., given by Misses Georgie Moxley and Gertrude Crenshaw, of this place. All are invited to attend. Admission 15c.

Hoping to see this in print, with best wishes to the KENTUCKIAN, I am UNO.

A final dress rehearsal of the Mystic Midgets given at the Opera House under the special direction of Fred H. Decker & Co., of New York is a decided success in every detail. The graceful manner in which the children take their parts and the individuality displayed insures for us a most pleasing entertainment. The advanced sale of tickets has been very large. The diagram will be at Galbreath & Ennis' to day. Entertainment to-night and to-morrow afternoon.

Meeting Postponed.

To the Members of Church Hill Grange:—Having talked with a good many of the members relative to the next fourth Friday meeting, that being the day for the election of officers and a very important one, I think it best to postpone our meeting until the last Friday, as the fourth Friday will be Christmas eve. I hope to see every member present.

J. W. RILEY, Master Church Hill Grange.

Mystic Midgets at St. Monica's Hall.

One of the most novel and pleasing cantatas ever seen in this city was presented for the first time at St. Monica's Hall to a crowded house. Long before the doors were open the people began to fill the entrance way and standing room was at a premium before the curtain rose. The cantata is spectacular in character and well adapted to please the old as well as the young. All of the parts were well taken and the acting many times would do justice to those of an older growth. The marches, dancing, posing and tableaux seen under the varied shades of the calcium light was very pretty.—N. Y. Herald.

Lynched by Miners.

Fort Smith, Ark., Dec. 8. The dead body of James Murray, constable at Janny Lind, a coal mining town in Sebastian county, was found Monday morning lying by the road. It was supposed that Murray was the victim of a common murder, but it has since developed that the officer was lynched by a mob of coal miners friends of Grant McBrown, the miner, whom Murray arrested at Bonanza.

The Royal Liquor Co., of which Mr. Jake Samuels is the manager, is strictly in it when it comes to supplying the flavoring ingredients for Christmas egg-nogs. Elsewhere in this issue Mr. Samuels makes some announcements to the public, that cannot fail to attract attention at this season of the year.
